Based on a field inspection of the E. Burke Avenue area, there is a concentration of buildings dating from the late 19th through the mid-20th century (WWII era) that meets the criteria for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. Rough boundaries appear to be from York Road east to Maryland Ave., from Linden south to Aigburth. However, there is insufficient information to judge the development of the neighborhood. We need additional information concerning the history of the subdivision of this area, the development of Towson, and how it corresponds to the history and growth of Towson State.

48 E. Burke Avenue is a simple early 20th century two-storey shingle clad residence with front porch. It is typical of the architecture found in the surrounding neighborhood and contributes to the National Register eligible E. Burke Avenue Historic District.
